

SYSTEM AND METHOD FOR IMPROVING ACCURACY OF BASELINE MODELS

Abstract

System, method and computer-readable medium for baseline modeling a product or process. A service database contains process data. A preprocessor processes the data into a predetermined format. A baseline modeling component builds a baseline model from the preprocessed data, wherein the baseline model relates process performance variables as a function of process operating conditions.